

The government should try harder to enforce our rights, not spit on them. We are entitled to privacy and security, not full-disclosure of personal business. Keep your nose out of my internet connection.